Speaker Biographies and Contact Information

Lindsey Browning
Senior policy analyst, National Association of Medicaid Directors
(202) 403-8626
lindsey.browning@medicaiddirectors.org

Browning joined the National Association of Medicaid Directors, or NAMD, in May 2014. Previously, she worked for the Children’s Hospital Association in policy analysis where she focused on implementation of the Affordable Care Act and state Medicaid and CHIP policy trends. She also served as a public policy intern for the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention.

Andy Chasin
Policy director, Blue Shield of California
(415) 994-4187
Andy.Chasin@blueshieldca.com

Chasin is policy director for Blue Shield of California. Prior to joining Blue Shield, Chasin served as the health policy counsel to the Senate Republican Policy Committee, where he worked on the Affordable Care Act as well as a variety of other issues. Chasin also has worked as a lawyer in a major Washington, D.C. firm and in a variety of other political and campaign positions.

Steven Costantino
Commissioner, Department of Vermont Health Access
Steven.Costantino@vermont.gov

Costantino is the Medicaid director in Vermont. Previously, he was a state legislator in Rhode Island, serving from 1995 to 2011, where he chaired the House Finance Committee. He served as secretary of health and human services under Rhode Island Gov. Lincoln Chafee before moving to Vermont.

Aaron S. Kesselheim, MD, JD, MPH
Program on Regulation, Therapeutics and Law, Brigham and Women’s Hospital and Harvard Medical School
(617) 278-0930
akesselheim@partners.org

Kesselheim is board certified in internal medicine and serves as a primary care physician at the Phyllis Jen Center for Primary Care at Brigham and Women’s Hospital in Boston. His research focuses on the effects of intellectual property laws and regulatory policies on pharmaceutical development, the drug approval process, and the costs, availability, and use of prescription drugs both domestically and in resource-poor settings. He has also investigated how other issues at the intersection of law and public health can affect the health care system, such as health care fraud, expert testimony in malpractice cases and insurance reimbursement practices. He is a member of the New York State Bar and is a patent attorney.
Robin Rudowitz
Associate director, Commission on Medicaid and the Uninsured, Kaiser Family Foundation
(202) 347-5270
rrudowitz@kff.org

Rudowitz focuses on state and federal Medicaid financing issues and Medicaid and the Affordable Care Act at the Kaiser Family Foundation. Prior to joining the Kaiser Commission on Medicaid and the Uninsured in 2004, Rudowitz was a senior manager at The Lewin Group, a health policy and management consulting firm. Rudowitz has worked on budget and health policy issues in different government agencies including the Office of Legislation at the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, the Office of the Chief Financial Officer for the District of Columbia, the Congressional Budget Office and the Ways and Means Committee for the New York State Assembly.

Maria Schiff
Director, state health care spending, The Pew Charitable Trusts
(202) 540-6822
mschiff@pewtrusts.org

Schiff directs Pew’s work on state and local health care spending and performance, which helps policymakers access the information they need to make data-driven policy decisions on health care. Schiff has held numerous positions in the health care field, including the National Governors Association where she advised states on implementation of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act and conducted research in the areas of health workforce planning and professional scope of practice laws. As a health policy director in Massachusetts, she helped research and plan Gov. Mitt Romney’s 2006 health care reform law. Following her government service, Schiff launched a managed care insurance program that enrolled previously uninsured Massachusetts residents for a nonprofit Medicaid managed care insurer.

Matt Salo
Executive director, National Association of Medicaid Directors
(202) 403-8621
matt.salo@medicaiddirectors.org

Salo has directed the National Association of Medicaid Directors, or NAMD, since its establishment in 2011. NAMD represents all 56 of the nation’s state and territorial Medicaid directors, provides them with a strong unified voice in national discussions and provides technical assistance on best practices. Salo worked for the National Governors Association for 12 years on the governors’ health care and human services reform agendas. In the previous five years, he was a health policy analyst working for the state Medicaid directors as part of the American Public Human Services Association.
Vikki Wachino, MPP
CMS deputy administrator/director, Center for Medicaid and CHIP Services and Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
(410) 786-3337

As director of Center for Medicaid and CHIP Services, or CMCS, Wachino leads activities related to national Medicaid and CHIP policy and program operations and works closely with states in the implementation of their Medicaid and CHIP programs. In her past Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services career, Wachino was responsible for implementing major provisions of the Affordable Care Act as director of the Children and Adults Health Programs Group and worked closely with states on progress toward key goals such as delivery system reform through section 1115 demonstration waivers. Wachino also has worked at the independent research organization NORC at the University of Chicago, the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, the Kaiser Family Foundation’s Commission on Medicaid and the Uninsured, and the White House Office of Management and Budget.

Leslie Wood
Deputy vice president for state policy at PhRMA
(202) 835-3400
Lwood@phrma.org

Wood is the deputy vice president for state policy at PhRMA. PhRMA, the Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America, represents the country’s leading biopharmaceutical researchers and biotechnology companies. She has worked for PhRMA since November 2006. She completed a master’s degree in public health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.