

Commissioner Bert Brantley

Georgia Department of Driver Services

Brantley, a native Georgian, was appointed as commissioner for the Georgia Department of Driver Services, or DDS, by Gov. Nathan Deal and the DDS Board of Directors in March 2016. In this role, he assists almost 1,000 DDS team members in issuing more than two million secure IDs and licenses each year. Brantley previously served in several state agencies, including the Georgia Department of Transportation, the state Department of Economic Development and the State Road & Tollway Authority. From December 2006 to January 2011, he served as Gov. Sonny Perdue's chief media spokesperson.
