

Courtney Cunningham

Program director, New England Comparative Effectiveness Public Advisory Council (CEPAC)

Cunningham is responsible for the strategic planning and execution of one of the Institute for Clinical and Economic Review's core programs, CEPAC. Prior to joining the institute, Cunningham worked as a research analyst for the Massachusetts Association of Health Plans. She was previously a senior clinical research coordinator in the Division of General Pediatrics at Massachusetts General Hospital and has worked in the clinical setting as a patient navigator at Lowell Community Health Center. She has served on research teams in the United States and internationally.