

Larry Gibson

Manufacturing Director, Unilever

Gibson has served as planning director and program director prior to being named manufacturing director at Unilever. His experience spans food, personal care and laundry in both planning and manufacturing at four manufacturing locations and three headquarters locations. He also has managed the business capability development for Unilever's SAP conversion in North America.