

Melinda Campopiano, chief medical officer
Center for Substance Abuse Treat, SAMHSA

Campopiano currently serves as chief medical officer for the Center for Substance Abuse Treatment at the Substance Abuse Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). She is a physician board certified in family medicine with additional credentialing in addiction medicine. She has worked in both primary care and addiction medicine including managing programs and patients using methadone and buprenorphine.