

Patrick Knue, director

PDMP Training and Technical Assistance Center, Brandeis University

Knue joined the Brandeis PDMP Center in 2012 after his retirement from the Texas Department of Public Safety where he served for 30 years specializing in prescription abuse. For nine of those years he managed the Texas Prescription Program. The PDMP Center assists U.S. Justice Department grantees, federal partners and other stakeholders to plan, implement, standardize and enhance prescription drug monitoring programs. It maintains a 49-state database and conducts evaluation studies of PDPM effectiveness.