Welcome to Music City, USA. Just like the songs produced here in Nashville, we know the 2015 National Conference of The Council of State Governments will be a big hit. Your attendance and participation will help make this a chart-topping event! Thank you for joining us.

The Council of State Governments has an interesting array of programs and meetings planned for you during your stay in Nashville. We encourage you to jump in and take full advantage of the many opportunities to expand your knowledge and share your perspectives. CSG has always been a member-driven organization and our meetings are designed to give you an all-access pass to everything we have to offer. We especially want to extend a warm welcome to our first-time attendees. We hope you will enjoy the family atmosphere and the close friendships forged during our time together.

This conference will showcase Nashville and celebrate its traditions. Tennessee Senate Majority Leader Mark Norris, CSG immediate past national chair, and his Tennessee colleagues have planned great events featuring award-winning music stars.

We also will carry on a tradition originated by Sen. Norris and give back to those in need at our food-packaging event. The holidays are a great time to reflect on our many blessings while reaching out and making a difference for our neighbors. Tennessee is the Volunteer State and with your help we can impact the lives of families in need. Please plan to join us for our CSG Campaign Against Hunger event as we prepare thousands of meals for donation to area food banks.

The CSG National Conference features plenty of sessions designed to provide you with a deeper dig on the most pressing issues facing state government. Over the past two years, CSG has pursued a national leadership initiative, State Pathways to Prosperity, to empower states to grow their economies through targeted, proven strategies designed to close the skills gap. At this conference, you will hear from experts and national leaders with a stake in workforce development.

This year’s class of CSG Henry Toll Fellows, our most distinguished leadership development program, will graduate during the national conference. The 2015 Toll Fellows hail from 33 states and represent all three branches of government. Individually, they are impressive public servants. Collectively, they are a force for making a difference and advancing the common good. We hope you will help celebrate their achievement.

CSG is fortunate to benefit from the generous support of many private sector associates and sponsors. This meeting would not be possible without their commitment to our success. Please join us in offering sincere thanks for their participation.

Enjoy your time in Nashville. Thank you for being such a special part of the CSG family.

This graceful structure was designed by noted architect William Strickland, who considered it his crowning achievement. When Strickland died suddenly during construction in 1854, he was buried in the north facade of the Capitol.

The cornerstone for the building was laid July 4, 1845, and construction finished in 1859. The grounds of the Tennessee State Capitol feature statues honoring Sam Davis, Sgt. Alvin York and Presidents Andrew Jackson and Andrew Johnson. The tombs of President and Mrs. James K. Polk are also located on the Capitol grounds.

Janson made headlines when his song “Buy Me A Boat” quickly landed at #1 on the iTunes Country chart and #7 on the All Genre chart. In addition, Chris Janson trended in the Top 10 as superstars Toby Keith, Brad Paisley and Nashville's Charles “Chip” Esten were abuzz on Twitter about the catchy tune. A formidable songwriter in his own right, Janson co-wrote the song with Chris Dubois, who has penned many #1 songs. With undeniable charisma, Janson brings a blue-collar, working-class, boot-stomping swagger to bear on every live performance, earning him opening slots for Florida Georgia Line and music legends Merle Haggard and Hank Williams Jr.

SATURDAY, DEC. 12

GUEST ACTIVITY: TOUR OF THE GOVERNOR’S RESIDENCE 1:15-3 p.m.
Space is limited and advance sign up is required. Participants must sign up at the Host State Information Desk before Thursday at noon. A photo ID is required for this activity. Buses will depart from the 5th Avenue entrance (side entrance) of the Omni Hotel at 1:15 p.m.

Tennessee’s Executive Residence, a classic example of stately Georgian architecture, was originally known as “Far Hills” because of the beautiful view from the home’s 10-acre site. The three-story, 16-room home was built for businessman William Ridley Wills, founder of National Life and Accident Insurance Company, and completed in 1931. The property became the Volunteer State’s official governor’s home when the state purchased it in 1949 following Wills’ death. To date, nine governors and their families have lived and worked in the Tennessee Executive Residence. Don’t miss this chance to tour the residence, which is all dressed up for the holidays.

A singer, songwriter, worldwide entertainer on the performing and theatrical stage, producer, duet partner, wife, mother and, now grandmother, Lorrie Morgan has sold more than six million records and has a trophy room adorned with reminders of gold and platinum successes, including 14 Top 10 hits.

The United States and 11 other nations announced in October that they had reached an agreement on the multilateral trade agreement known as the Trans-Pacific Partnership, or TPP. These nations collectively have a market size of nearly 800 million consumers and account for nearly 40 percent of the world’s gross domestic product. Exports of U.S. goods to TPP nations totaled $698 billion in 2013, or about 45 percent of total U.S. exports, and a finalized deal would yield even greater trade with TPP countries. A 2012 analysis by the Peterson Institute for International Economics estimated that a TPP agreement could generate nearly $124 billion in new U.S. exports to those nations. During this session, experts from the Office of the United States Trade Representative and the United States Department of Commerce will discuss the details of the TPP agreement and what it means for your state.

8-10 a.m. | Broadway Ballroom AB, 2nd Floor
Sponsored by the CSG Fiscal & Economic Development Public Policy Committee

As the United States’ economy gains momentum, state leaders are focused on answering a few key questions. How can the U.S. sustain that momentum? Where should we place our bets and invest our resources to create long-term pathways to prosperity? This session will bring together experts from government, academia and the private sector to discuss how best to collaborate in developing a long-term strategy to grow the economy and create quality jobs. Attendees also will hear a fiscal and economic forecast for 2016 and receive a briefing on the status of international trade agreements.

IMPROVING STATE ELECTIONS FOR MILITARY, OVERSEAS VOTERS
8-10 a.m. | Broadway Ballroom CD, 2nd Floor
Sponsored by the CSG Overseas Voting Initiative

For decades, members of the U.S. military and their dependents experienced problems at every step of the overseas voting process: registering to vote, requesting and receiving absentee ballots, and returning absentee ballots. State and local election administrators face challenges associated with maintaining accurate registration rolls for a highly mobile and transient population, some of whom reside in remote areas of the world. While significant progress has been made, there is still room for states to improve the military and overseas voting process. In this session, key stakeholders will share their experiences and perspectives in working to enhance voting for overseas Americans. They will also discuss the need for state-level policy improvements to better enfranchise this important voting population. This session will also explain how CSG, in partnership with the U.S. Department of Defense’s Federal Voting Assistance Program, is helping to improve the U.S. military and overseas voting process through the CSG Overseas Voting Initiative.

Join us as we demonstrate tools that can help you identify your state’s research strengths, and learn how to collaborate with the private and academic sectors to maximize those advantages.

FEDERAL FUNDING CHALLENGES,
STATE FUNDING SOLUTIONS
10 a.m.-Noon | Broadway Ballroom AB, 2nd Floor
Sponsored by the CSG Transportation & Infrastructure Public Policy Committee
Facing continuing uncertainty with regard to federal funding, Tennessee and other states have postponed millions of dollars in transportation projects. But even as a gas tax increase has become a political third rail in Washington, D.C., many states have turned to the venerable transportation revenue mechanism this year to advance their transportation programs. This session will highlight both the impact of federal uncertainty and the successes of those states that passed gas tax increases or other revenue measures in 2015.

POLICY WORKSHOP: THE CAUSES, COSTS AND CONSEQUENCES OF BAD GOVERNMENT DATA
10 a.m.-Noon | Broadway Ballroom GH, 2nd Floor
States and all other levels of government are turning to data more often and more vigorously to help manage effectively and guide policy decisions. But a blind faith in data can easily lead a state astray in a variety of ways. That’s because the quality of data varies dramatically. It’s often inaccurate, untimely, badly manipulated and incomplete. Sometimes, despite growing reliance on data, the needed information doesn’t even exist. This session will cover the data front, making concrete recommendations for ways to improve data quality.
FOUND IN TRANSLATION: GLOBAL PROTOCOL FOR FOREIGN DELEGATIONS
10 a.m.-Noon | Broadway Ballroom E, 2nd Floor

CSG INNOVATION CLASSROOM: INNOVATION AND CYBERSECURITY—PAYMENT CARD DEVELOPMENTS
11 a.m.-Noon | Prefunction Area, 2nd Floor
Presented by Visa Inc.

Commonly used in place of the magnetic stripe, EMV chip technology helps to reduce card fraud in a face-to-face, card-present environment; provides global interoperability; and enables safer transactions across contact and contactless channels. Chip implementation was initiated in the U.S. market in 2011 and 2012 when American Express, Discover, MasterCard and Visa announced their roadmaps for supporting a chip-based payment infrastructure. Readiness targets to support EMV have been established, with liability shifts for managing fraud risk in a face-to-face environment set for October 2015. In this session, Stephanie Ericksen, vice president for risk products at Visa Inc., will help educate policymakers on how chip technology can help reduce fraud and increase payment security in their respective states.

BOOK PRE-SALE: HAMPTON SIDES
11 a.m.-Noon | Legends Ballroom Prefunction Area, 2nd Floor

Copies of In the Kingdom of Ice will be available for purchase at the Parnassus Books table. Hampton Sides will sign copies of the book following the luncheon.

GETTING MORE BANG FOR THE BUCK
2:30-4:30 p.m. | Broadway Ballroom CD, 2nd Floor
Sponsored by the CSG Health Public Policy Committee

No state can ignore the challenge of controlling the cost of health care, which is estimated to reach one-fifth of GDP by 2020. Medicaid budget growth continues to strain states’ abilities to grow program priorities in other arenas. The uncertainty of federal commitment to current Medicaid matching formulas is exacerbated by the 2016 election. Promising state strategies to control costs of health care, generally, and Medicaid, specifically, will be explored.

AGING OUT OF FOSTER CARE
2:30-4:30 p.m. | Broadway Ballroom GH, 2nd Floor
Sponsored by the CSG Interbranch Affairs Committee

Every year, thousands of young men and women age out of the foster care system lacking the stability and life skills to prepare them to live as productive adults. Many of these youths will find themselves without a high school degree and unable to secure gainful employment, which can lead to homelessness, poverty and entry into the criminal justice system. This session will highlight innovative approaches states are taking to protect foster care children and provide hope to those who find themselves rapidly aging out of the system.

NEXT GENERATION EDUCATION SYSTEMS—A 51ST STATE MODEL
2:30-4:30 p.m. | Broadway Ballroom E, 2nd Floor
Sponsored by the CSG Education & Workforce Development Public Policy Committee

As part of its State Pathways to Prosperity initiative, CSG released a report in August that outlines recommendations for state-level policies to ensure students are prepared for postsecondary education and the workforce. The report, “A Framework for State Policymakers: Developing Pathways to Ensure a Skilled Workforce for State Prosperity,” containing the work of the CSG National Task Force on Workforce Development and Education, represents more than a year of study, dialogue and deliberation by state officials from both parties, all regions of the U.S. and from diverse perspectives. This session will feature some of the experts and policymakers who dedicated their time to crafting these options for robust state-level policies and will explore how states are preparing today’s students for the jobs of tomorrow.

Each year, more than 10 million adults are released from jail or prison. Across the political spectrum, people agree that efforts to help these individuals stay out of prison or jail and to succeed in the community must include a strategy focused on assisting them to get and maintain a job. As part of the CSG State Pathways to Prosperity initiative, the CSG Justice Center has been working with local and state governments, as well as leaders in the business community, to test and evaluate approaches that work to reduce recidivism and improve employment outcomes. Buses will depart from the 5th Avenue entrance (side entrance) of the Omni Hotel at 1:15 p.m. Tennessee’s Executive Residence, a classic example of stately Georgian architecture, was originally known as “Far Hills” because of the beautiful view from the home’s 10-acre site. To date, nine governors and their families have lived and worked in the Tennessee Executive Residence. Don’t miss this chance to tour the residence all dressed up for the holidays.

ABOUT CSG

CSG MISSION
Established in 1933, The Council of State Governments is the only organization that takes state government to the next level by creating a multibranch, nonpartisan community. Because of this community, we are able to identify and share best practices and take on the critical challenges of the future in an unparalleled fashion. We conduct research, create forums for innovation and, through our community, ensure the states continue to be recognized as the laboratories of democracy.

CSG OVERVIEW
Governors, legislators, justices, appointed officials and agency directors—our community is composed of officials from all three branches of government from every state and territory in the U.S. Several Canadian provinces also participate in the CSG community through affiliations with CSG regional offices. CSG expertise includes affiliate organizations with specialized knowledge and the CSG Justice Center. Government affairs professionals from Fortune 500 companies, professional associations and nonprofit groups participate in the community through the CSG Associates program.

CSG WASHINGTON, D.C., OFFICE
The CSG Washington, D.C., office provides a voice for state leaders to Congress. The Washington office monitors federal developments and trends and evaluates the impact of federal activities, including U.S. Supreme Court decisions, on states. The CSG Washington office is well positioned to create the kind of relationships that grow into partnerships between the states and the federal government.

CSG REGIONS
Regional by design, CSG is a national community with six offices across the U.S. The headquarters office is in Lexington, Ky., and the federal liaison office is located in Washington, D.C. Regional offices are located in Atlanta, Chicago, New York City and Sacramento, Calif. All CSG members have the opportunity to participate on two levels—regional and national. This structure invites focused participation from members on a more intimate, regional level and also provides a national community to exchange information and ideas.

CSG HEADQUARTERS
The national office in Lexington, Ky., is the epicenter for The Council of State Governments’ mission to help make states stronger. The headquarters office provides policy analysis and tracks national issues facing state governments. The Lexington staff also manages CSG national meetings and programs. These national meetings convene state leaders, private-sector partners and staff from every region to learn from guest speakers, network with colleagues and share solutions. CSG flagship publications, such as The Book of the States and Capitol Ideas magazine, also are produced at our national office. State leaders rely on these publications, as well as our many policy briefs and multimedia materials, to assist them in the challenge of governance. The national office is also home to other CSG national programs: the Henry Toll Fellowship Program, the Associates Program, CSG Affiliate organizations, Suggested State Legislation and the National Center for Interstate Compacts.
