Providing Call Locations During Emergencies

This Act requires wireless telecommunications carriers disclose the location of cell phone callers when such callers use their cell phones to make emergency calls. The Act directs that no cause of action shall lie in any court against any wireless telecommunications carrier, its officers, employees, agents or other specified persons for providing call location information while acting in good faith and in accordance with the provisions of the Act. The Act also directs the state bureau of investigation to collect and distribute information about wireless carriers doing business in the state to public safety answering points throughout the state.
