Registering Livestock Premises

This Act generally requires anyone who keeps any livestock, regardless of number, to register the premises where the livestock are kept with the state Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP). The Act defines “livestock” as bovine animals, equine animals, goats, poultry, sheep, swine, farm-raised deer, and any other animal that the DATCP identifies by rule. Registrants must provide their name and business address, the location where the registrant keeps livestock, the type of livestock, and the type of livestock operation.

Under the Act, the DATCP assigns and maintains a code to each location which complies with U.S. Department of Agriculture standards. The Act specifies that in general, registrant information is not a public record subject to disclosure under the open records law.
