FOREWORD

On August 5-6, 1940, a Federal-State Conference on Law Enforcement Problems of National Defense was held in Washington, D. C. Following the Conference, a Drafting Committee of state officials was appointed to develop a state legislative program based on the recommendations of the Conference. The result of the Drafting Committee's work was the first volume of Suggested State Legislation.

Annual volumes of Suggested State Legislation, approved by the Committee of State Officials on Suggested State Legislation (formerly the Drafting Committee) of the Council of State Governments, have been appearing since 1941. Thirty-two volumes have appeared so far in this series, the most recent being the volume for 1973.

Proposals incorporated in Suggested State Legislation have covered an increasing variety of subjects. Many of the earlier proposals may still be of interest to the States. It is largely for this reason that the Council of State Governments has prepared this cumulative index.

Copies of this index and a limited quantity of earlier copies of Suggested State Legislation are available from the Council of State Governments.

INTRODUCTION

Each year the Committee on Suggested State Legislation formulates draft Acts and statements relating to a wide variety of legislative matters which are of interest to the States. These proposals are presented to the States by the Council of State Governments through an annual publication, Suggested State Legislation. The Council’s Committee on Suggested State Legislation is composed of a cross section of state officials — Commissioners on Interstate Cooperation, Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, Attorneys General, legislators, legislative staff of the States, and others.

In developing Suggested State Legislation, the Council of State Governments receives from individual state officials, from organizations of state officials, from special state committees or agencies, and from public service organizations, proposals for consideration by the State Legislatures. In a somewhat similar manner, the federal Office of Management and Budget gathers various proposals which the federal agencies wish to call to the attention of the States. In addition, the OMB acts in a liaison capacity with the Council. Proposals received by the Council for consideration by the Committee are first reviewed by the Subcommittee on Scope and Agenda.

Some proposals are received in the form of legislative drafts. In other instances, drafts of Acts are developed by special subcommittees of the Committee on Suggested State Legislation, by special drafting groups and through intergovernmental conferences. They are sent for advance study to members of the Committee together with explanatory statements which outline the extent of the problems and the nature of the suggested solutions.

The proposals are considered and discussed in detail in panel meetings of the Committee, frequently with representatives of state and federal agencies; where appropriate, representatives of local governments and of nongovernmental organizations are invited to advise the Committee.

After final approval by the Committee, the volume of Suggested State Legislation is distributed to Governors, State Attorneys General, Commissioners on Interstate Cooperation, legislative leaders and other state officials.

All state officials are urged to submit to the Council of State Governments suggestions for draft legislation which they believe may be of interest to other States. A single State’s experience in a new field frequently leads to the adoption of similar action in other States if the problem is general, the approach is well conceived, and other States can be made aware of the action.

1971 Suggested State Legislation ........................................ Sept. 1971

All proposals appearing in these 32 volumes are noted in the cumulative index which follows.

The classification system used in this index is of the subject variety with extensive cross-referencing. A list of the subject headings used precedes the cumulative index.

The style in which the individual proposals are entered is quite simple. Under each subject heading are the related proposals. Proposals for new constitutional provisions are indicated by an asterisk following the abbreviated draft title. The nature of the proposal is indicated in parentheses whether it is a statement, revision, recommendation, amendment, or a reprint from a previous edition.

The year following the proposal indicates a particular volume; e.g., 1965 indicates that the proposal appeared in Suggested State Legislation for 1965, printed in October 1964. (The publication date for each program year appears on the listing beginning on page viii.)

The type of proposal is indicated by abbreviations, the meanings of which follow:

SL Drafts developed by the Committee on Suggested State Legislation
UL Uniform laws developed by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws
MA Model acts developed by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws
AC Drafts developed by the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations
EL Drafts developed by the National Symposium on State Environmental Legislation
IC Interstate Compacts

The page numbers indicate the pages of the Suggested State Legislation volume on which the Acts will be found.

Cumulative Index, 1974-1993

The following cumulative index covers volumes of Suggested State Legislation since 1974 and includes the legislation through this current edition.

This index uses extensive subject headings, sub-headings and cross references (“see” and “see also” entries). Draft legislation is listed by title under appropriate subjects. Individual bills are often included under several headings, if they cover more than one topic.

Specific entries are of two kinds:
1. Titles of bills followed by the year of the volume in parentheses and the page numbers. To find the text of a draft bill, you should consult the volume for the specific year listed.
2. References are also provided to parts of draft bills, by subject. These references do not list the full title of the draft bill, but cite only the year and the page numbers.

All entries under subject headings are listed in the order in which they were published. An index to volumes before 1974 may be found in Volume 43 (1984).

Cumulative Index, 1975-1994

The following cumulative index covers volumes of Suggested State Legislation since 1975 and includes the legislation through this current edition.

This index uses extensive subject headings, sub-headings and cross references ("see" and "see also" entries). Draft legislation is listed by title under appropriate subjects. Individual bills are often included under several headings, if they cover more than one topic.

Specific entries are of two kinds:

1. Titles of bills followed by the year of the volume in parentheses and the page numbers. To find the text of a draft bill, you should consult the volume for the specific year listed.

2. References are also provided to parts of draft bills, by subject. These references do not list the full title of the draft bill, but cite only the year and the page numbers.

All entries under subject headings are listed in the order in which they were published. An index to volumes before 1975 may be found in Volume 43 (1984).

SUGGESTED STATE LEGISLATION

Cumulative Index, 1976-1995

The following cumulative index covers volumes of Suggested State Legislation since 1976 and includes the legislation through this current edition.

This index uses extensive subject headings, sub-headings and cross references ("see" and "see also" entries). Draft legislation is listed by title under appropriate subjects. Individual bills are often included under several headings, if they cover more than one topic.

Specific entries are of two kinds:

(1) Titles of bills followed by the year of the volume in parentheses and the page numbers. To find the text of a draft bill, you should consult the volume for the specific year listed.

(2) References are also provided to parts of draft bills, by subject. These references do not list the full title of the draft bill, but cite only the year and the page numbers.

All entries under subject headings are listed in the order in which they were published. An index to volumes before 1976 may be found in Volume 43 (1984).

Cumulative Index, 1977-1996

The following cumulative index covers volumes of Suggested State Legislation since 1977 and includes the legislation through this current edition.

This index uses extensive subject headings, sub-headings and cross references ("see" and "see also" entries). Draft legislation is listed by title under appropriate subjects. Individual bills are often included under several headings, if they cover more than one topic.

Specific entries are of two kinds:
(1) Titles of bills followed by the year of the volume in parentheses and the page numbers. To find the text of a draft bill, you should consult the volume for the specific year listed.
(2) References are also provided to parts of draft bills, by subject. These references do not list the full title of the draft bill, but cite only the year and the page numbers.

All entries under subject headings are listed in the order in which they were published. An index to volumes before 1977 may be found in Volume 44 (1985).

The Council of State Governments is a nonpartisan organization that serves all three branches of state government through leadership, education, research and information services.

Founded in 1933, this multibranch organization of the states and U.S. territories champions excellence in state government, working with state leaders across the nation and through its regions to put the best ideas and solutions into practice.

To this end, The Council of State Governments:
• Builds leadership skills to improve decision-making;
• Advocates multistate problem-solving and partnerships;
• Interprets changing national and international conditions to prepare states for the future; and,
• Promotes the sovereignty of the states and their role in the American federal system.

Cumulative Index, 1979-1998

The following cumulative index covers volumes of Suggested State Legislation since 1979 and includes the legislation through this current edition.

This index uses extensive subject headings, sub-headings and cross-references ("see" and "see also" entries). Draft legislation is listed by title under appropriate subjects. Individual bills are often included under several headings, if they cover more than one topic.

Specific entries are of two kinds:
(1) Titles of bills followed by the year of the volume in parentheses and the page numbers. To find the text of a draft bill, you should consult the volume for the specific year listed.
(2) References are also provided to parts of draft bills, by subject. These references do not list the full title of the draft bill, but cite only the year and the page numbers.

All entries under subject headings are listed in the order in which they were published. An index to volumes before 1979 may be found in Volume 46 (1987).

Cumulative Index

The entries in this index cover topics from the 1990 Suggested State Legislation volume through this 2010 edition. The entries are now listed by subject, title, year published, and page number in just the printed versions of SSL volumes. This is because the page numbers for the entries change from what is published in the electronic “Parts” of SSL volumes (e.g., Part I and Part II) and what is published in the combined, printed version of the volumes. However, all entries under the subject headings are listed in chronological order.
